

Governor Haslam Visits TTU Motorsports

Cookeville, TN – March 27th, 2015

On Friday afternoon, Tennessee Governor Bill Haslam made a trip to Tennessee Tech to help celebrate the University's 100th year. After speaking with TTU President Phil Oldham and College of Engineering Dean Joe Rencis, mention of the Formula SAE team sparked his interest. Later, he met up with the TTU Motorsports team at the Volpe Library to learn about the 2015 Prototype car. Governor Haslam spoke with TTU Motorsports Executive Director, Aaron

Crowley, about the car's specifications. Aaron spoke on the "Makers By Design" outreach program for STEM Education well as the team's upcoming competition in Michigan in mid-May. The team hopes to be granted more opportunities to educate the general public on their endeavors in the future.
